

Free Warm-Up: The Snack Tray

A separate, simpler ordering warm-up showing the puzzle style. It is not one of the six puzzles and does not show the full game difficulty.

How to run it

1. Print the warm-up page for the players. Keep the solution page yourself.
2. Read the intro out loud, then let the players work it out together.
3. If they get stuck, point to one clue at a time. Clue 1 is the best place to start.
4. When they have an answer, check it against the solution page.
5. The full game uses different puzzles: a cipher, a route, an ordering puzzle, a logic grid, a balance puzzle, and a two-layer screen.

The Snack Tray

Before the reboot, Party Bot is testing its snack arm. It needs the four snacks on its tray in the right order, from left (1) to right (4).

StrawberriesLemonade*Pretzels*Apple slices

CLUES

1. The lemonade sits right after the apple slices.
2. The strawberries are not in spot 1 or spot 2.
3. The pretzels are somewhere to the left of the apple slices.

THE TRAY (LEFT TO RIGHT)

Spot 1	Spot 2	Spot 3	Spot 4

Write the first letter of each snack, in order. What word do they spell?

Warm-up solution

1. Clue 1: Apple slices and Lemonade sit side by side, in that order.
2. Clue 3: Pretzels are left of the apple slices, so apple slices can't be in spot 1.
3. If apple slices were in spot 3, lemonade would be in spot 4 and strawberries would have no spot left (clue 2). So apple slices are in spot 2 and lemonade in spot 3.
4. Pretzels take spot 1 and strawberries spot 4: Pretzels, Apple slices, Lemonade, Strawberries.
5. Answer: PALS. Party Bot says: "Thanks, pals!"

LIKED IT?

The full game, Reboot the Party Bot, has six different puzzle types (a cipher, a route, an ordering puzzle, a logic grid, a balance puzzle, and a two-layer screen), a Host Guide with step-by-step hints, and a finale to read aloud.
